The English papers are filled with peace rumors, but their assertions are totally at variance with the continental press. The London Times and De Israeli's organ, the London Press, asserts that peace is at hand—that Austria is about to address an ultimatum to Russia, summoning her, under a threat of breaking off negotiations with her, to accept such conditions of peace as the Western Powers tion of the Jath anniversary of the Declara-tion of the Independence of Panama in 1821. On Tuesday, at noon, the ringing of bells and firing of guns announced the commence-ment of the celebration; at three o'clock the such conditions of peace as the Western Powers are now willing to assent to, but which they will not agree to after another successful campaign.

The Berlin correspondence of the London Morning Chronicle says that Austria maintains the validity of the treaty of December 2d, and nence all attempts of the other German States to exercise a pressure upon the Western Powers, with a view to pacification, have been paralyzed. There are various reports of at-tempts at negotiation, but the state of affairs appears to stand thus: Austria has made a imunication to France embodying the terms which she is prepared to propose to Russia as an ultimatum. France has submitted this an ultimatum. communication to England, and both governments have it now under consideration. terms are a great advance upon any yet offered, but they are terms for Austria, not Russia. Austria does not guarantee to join the allies if the ultimatum is rejected, but only to suspend her relations with Russia. The London Times says positively that the treaty with Sweden has been signed at Stockolm, while the Post firmly denies it.

Private letters from St. Petersbarg indicate no desire for peace. The overland trade was profitable and money was abundant.

THE GLOBE

I address my annual circular to the public, apprising it that the Globe will renew its reports of the Congressional Debates at the next session of Congress. It is hardly necessary to say that the import to the country. The issues which have been made in relation to slavery, connected with the great interest which is always taken in Con-gress in relation to the nomination of presidential candidates, will give intense excitement to the next session, which will be communicated to the public. Whatever is debated in Congress will be public. Whatever is debated in Congress will be debated everywhere. The importance of official reports cannot, therefore, be too highly estimated. The country will pass upon the proceedings of Congress as they progress, and public opinion, if properly informed, will have a salutary influence upon the result.

The Dally Globs will be printed on a double royal sheet at eleven o'clock every morning, ex-cept Sunday, and will contain all the messages of the President of the United States; the reports of the Executive Departments; the entire proceed ings of Congress; the laws passed during the session; and the news by telegraph and from other sources up to the hour of going to press. The debates in Congress frequently fill thirty, forty, fifty, and sometimes more than a hundred columns a day. Whenever they make more than twenty eight columns a day extra sheets are twenty-eight columns a day, extra sheets are Tuesday's Congressional Globe will be pu lished every Tuesday morning, and contain the proceedings of Congress in a condensed form; the current news of the day, and such editorial comment upon the times as may be deemed suitable to the character of the paper. When the debates of a week cannot be condensed into twenty columns, and leave eight columns of the sheet or other matter and advertisements, an extra sheet will be printed.

The Congressional Globe will be the revised edition of the proceedings contained in the Daily Globe, and the laws passed during the session of the proceedings contained in the Daily Globe, and the laws passed during the session of the proceedings contained in the Daily Globe, and the laws passed during the session of the proceedings of the proceedi Globe, and the laws passed during the session, printed in book form on a royal quarto page, and will, probably, make four volumes of nine hundred pages each. The last volume of the four will be an APPENDIX, which will contain such speeches as are written out by the members themselves, with such deferred proceedings as necessarily accompany them. Complete indexes will be made out and forwarded to subscribers soon after the end of the session. If a subscriber shall after the end of the session. If a subscriber shal lose any numbers, they will be supplied at the rate of three cents for sixteen pages.

It is admitted by every competent judge, whose opinion I have heard expressed on the subject, that the debates of Congress are better reported, and sold lower than those of any other legislative body. A calculation which I made for the Senate of the United States in April, 1854, shows that Congressional Globe and Appendix, only one eleventh the rate charged in England for publishing the debates of Parliament, and about one seventh the average rate paid by the States of Pennsylvania, Maryland, and Kentucky, (which are all the States in which the prices paid hat then been ascertained,) for publishing their de bates in book form only. The debates of Congress are offered to subscribers, in this Prospec tus, for about one half the price paid for them by Congress—the expense of reporting, and then publishing them in the Daily Globe to enable members to revise their remarks for the Congressional Globe and Appendix, are all paid for by Congress, and do not form any part of the & which an individual pays for them. Calculations which an individual pays for them. Calculations showing the prices paid for debates are printed on the fourth page of the paper.

To facilitate the circulation of the Congressional Globe and cheapen it to subscribers, Congress passed a joint resolution making it free of postage.

I annex it, as the law may not be accessible to postmasters generally:

"Joint Resolution providing for the distribution of the Laws of Congress and the Debates thereon.

"With a view to the cheap circulation of the laws of Congress and the debates contributing to the true interpretation thereof, and to make free the communication between the representative and constituent bodies:

"Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled. That from and after the present sension of Congress, the Congressional Globe and session of Congress, the Congressional Globe an Appendix, which contain the laws and the debate Appendix, which contain the laws and the debates thereon, shall pass free through the mails so long as the same shall be published by order of Congress: Provided, That nothing herein shall be construed to authorize the circulation of the Daily Globe free of postage."

I commenced publishing the Congressional Globe and Appendix in 1833. They now make thirty-seven volumes. The first edition of many of them is exhausted, and I am now reprinting and sterotypning them. They cannot be efforded.

and stereotyping them. They cannot be afforded for less than $7 50 a volume. Should any subscriber wish the back numbers, they will be furnished, well bound, at that rate.

TERMS. DAILY GLOBE, one year during WEEKLY GLOBE, one year..... during the session..... " during the session...... CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE AND APPENDIX, dur-received at par. The whole or any part of a re-mittance may be made in postage stamps. The money should be in this city by the first Monday in next December, the day fixed for the meeting of Congress.

Heretofore I have sent the Daily Globe to those afford to do so any longer, as the papers that published my Prospectus. I cannot afford to do so any longer, as the papers sent for several years past cost me more than all I received for subscriptions out of this city during that time.

Of Copaiba: 114 Chambers Street, N. Y.
TO THE MEDICAL PROFESSION.
ENTLEMEN.—The valuable medicinal of properties of Balsam Copaiba have long been recognized by the faculty, but the great disadvantage arising from its nauseous taste has hitherte prevented its administration in many diseases for which it is particularly adapted. The usual "modus operands" of prescribing it, either in the form of an Emulsion or Gelatinous Capsules, has not been found satisfactory, being liable to some objection, either from the difficulty experrenced by some individuals in the degluttion of the Capsule or the small quantity of Copaiba gen-the Capsule or the small quantity of Copaiba generally found in the Emulsion.

Joyce's tasteless solution of Copaiba is the most unique preparation yet introduced to the medical profession, as it contains 50 per cent. of the purest Para Copaiba, without taste or smell, and it same time mixes clearly and freely with and at same time mixes clearly and freely with water, and is pronounced by the most eminen physicians and analytical chemists in the old and new worlds to contain all the medicinal proper ties of Balsam Copaiba without its disagreable Running time between Washington and Cincin nati 27 hours!! characteristics,
